SingTeach Virtual Staff Lounge: Teaching & Learning through a Pandemic

Instructions for Contributors

SingTeach is an e-magazine for teachers published by the Office of Education Research at the National Institute of Education, Nanyang Technological University, Singapore. Articles are online and free-to-access at https://singteach.nie.edu.sg/.

Virtual Staff Lounge

In 2020, during the COVID-19 pandemic, the Virtual Staff Lounge was launched as a collaborative platform for educators, education researchers and parents to support one another as schools in Singapore shift to home-based learning (HBL).

Topics

We hope to feature your stories and experiences on how this pandemic has affected you. We welcome the following range of topics:

- think pieces on how the pandemic has affected education/education research;
- challenges you faced and how you overcome them;
- tips on how to make distance lessons more engaging;
- interesting stories that give insight into the nature of teaching and learning during this crisis; and/or
- reflections on COVID-19 and/or HBL.

Submission Guidelines

The following guidelines may be helpful:

- Article length should not exceed 1,000 words (exceptions may apply).
- Writing style should be clear and easy to understand with research jargon (if any) clearly explained.
- Please submit your draft in Word format.
- The author (or main author, if more than one) of the article is required to provide his/her signature in the Assignment of Copyright Form prior to publication.
- Images (if any) should be high-resolution (min. 300 dpi).

The publication of articles is subjected to the SingTeach editorial team’s decision. If deemed suitable for readers, the article will also be edited for clarity and house style.

For enquiries or submission please email: haryanti.sazali@nie.edu.sg