- The network map is based on you/your classmates' replies to one another's comments.
- Nodes of people who have replied one another are connected by lines.
- Arrows point in the direction of replies.
- Thicker lines mean more replies between nodes.
- The more you post, the bigger your node.
- The more you reply, the brighter your node.
- Your node will show as a grey square until you make a post.

For anonymity, actual names have been replaced.
